"Communication – Cooperation – Collaboration"

Volume 6, Number 16

Greetings Coalition Family!

The media, politicians and all others, embarrassed by the worldwide 'Occupy' phenomena, are calling for an agenda to legitimize protestor's demands. I see this as another ploy to discredit and dismiss the outcry of the people. This demand is another smokescreen. As an elected official, if you do not know the things that are negatively affecting your constituency, you are dangerously out of touch. Hell, you are most likely complicit in the intentional cause of the situations that have awakened the future of the middle class, and re-energized the disenfranchised worldwide. How can you have your foot on someone's neck and not know what their complaint is? The agenda is EVERYTHING! Everything you are responsible for that rips off the taxpayer! And if you are so inured in the garbage that you do not know what the fresh air of reality smells like, then quit so an honest person can take your place. Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness are GOD given and cannot be denied indefinitely.
Ed.

Our Constitution was made only for a moral and religious people. It is wholly inadequate to the government of any other. - John Adams

Cap4Kids Hint of the Week

Almost 1 in 10 children in America meet the definition of a Child with Special Health Care Needs (CSHCN). To help with the myriad of organizations that are committed to help families, educators, and health care professionals find resources in Philly to serve families with CSHCN, the www.cap4kids.org/philadelphia website has a handout dedicated to Special Needs/Autism (http://www.cap4kids.org/philadelphia/parent_handouts/special_needs_autism.html). Please become familiar with these resources as well as on the Helpful Links tab, the PA Medical Home site and initiatives (<http://www.pamedicalhome.org/>).

Free nicotine patches? Check. Text messages for free family planning clinics? Check. Texts for smoking cessation? Check. Listings for dentists that accept Medicaid? Check. Dental handouts for kids with special needs? Check. Eye care resources? Check. And more.

Check out the Physical Health handout on Cap4Kids (http://www.cap4kids.org/philadelphia/parent_handouts/physical_health_resources.html) and help families connect with these resources to help improve their health.

As a reminder, on the www.cap4kids.org/philadelphia website, under the Food/Nutrition/Breastfeeding Handout (http://www.cap4kids.org/philadelphia/parent_handouts/food_nutrition_breastfeeding.html), you will find a listing of various resources for food in Philadelphia including: Income Based Food Programs; Emergency Food Resources; and Community Fresh Food Resources.

Please use these resources to help families in need.

First Friday - Throughout the city

There's diversity both in the crowd and among the galleries, adding flavor to the experience. The largest network of galleries is between Front and Third, and Market and Vine Streets, but many galleries throughout the city also participate.

It began in 1991 by the Old City Arts Association as a collaborative open house. First Friday is one of Philadelphia's most unique cultural experiences.

Held the first Friday night of each month, rain or shine, year-round.
Hours: 5:00 PM to 9:00 PM
No admission

This art community "open house" brings together city dwellers and suburbanites, contemporary arts and antique collectors, aficionados of classical and contemporary design, and theater and performance buffs.

The welcoming informality of First Friday attracts crowds of casual browsers as well as serious buyers to each festive event, featuring dozens of Old City's galleries and shops hosting exhibition receptions or just open for your perusal and enjoyment.

The Kingsessing Fifth Division Community of Neighbors is a community group, with a core group of block captains, who have been actively involved in servicing the needs of the residents in our community. This year our organization sponsored our 2nd annual blanket drive to collect blankets for members of our community. The name of this project is

The goal of this effort is to supply at least one blanket to the more than one hundred families that will be in need of such a resource. The belief of K5DCN’s is that there are people such as you, your company, churches, agencies, and other organizations that would be interested in participating in such a worthy project. Last year thanks to many such as yourselves we collected 100 blankets. We know that because of the high cost of energy, and the financial crisis that our country continues to experience, our neighbors need our help. Due to health reasons we request that your donations be new blankets. K5DCN also knows that it was supporters like you who helped us in September 2011 when we gave away 245 schoolbags full of school supplies.

Banana Peels Can Purify Polluted Drinking Water, Scientists Say

by Katie Robbins

Did you hear the one about the chemist and the banana peel?

As much as it sounds like one, this isn't the set-up for a slapstick punch line. Scientists in Brazil have discovered that banana peels can be used to clean polluted drinking water, NPR reports.

Gustavo Castro, an environmental chemist at Sao Paulo State University, suspected that we might be overlooking valuable properties in the peels.

"I have heard for a long time that we usually throw out the best part of the fruit and that most of the nutrients and proteins are in parts not used by us, such as the peels," he told the American Chemical Society in a podcast. "From there, I decided to make an initial experiment to determine the chemical composition of the peel."

Castro found that banana peels contain nitrogen, sulfur, and carboxylic acids, which, he noted, bind with positively-charged heavy metals often leached into water from mining or industrial runoff. Since many methods of removing metals from the water are expensive and toxic, Castro thought he might be on to a more natural method of cleaning drinking water.

He and his colleagues chopped and dried bits of banana peel and combined them with water from Brazil's polluted Paraná River.

The peels stood up to other types of commonly-used filtering products like silica and carbon, and scientists found that the peels could be used up to 11 times without losing their purifying powers.

One essential to success is that your desire be an all-obsessing one, your thoughts and aim be coordinated, and your energy be concentrated and applied without letup. – Claude Bristol

If you have a favorite joke, why not share it with our readers. send to TheCoalitionNews@gmail.com We will credit you with the submission.

And they were cheap.

"I was surprised to learn that something so simple could work so well," said Castro. "I believe banana peels can be of great importance in water purification."

But one important question remains: With banana skins going to a good cause, what will pranksters use for a good-old fashioned peel pratfall?

Volunteer with Philabundance Fresh for All
You recycle out the wazoo and consider yourself consigliere of the enviro-sack mafia.

Hence, a cause you can believe in: Philabundance wants to fill those ubiquitous bags with produce through its new Fresh for All programs.
And you can help by volunteering.

The nonprofit hands out perishables at six sites in the Delaware Valley — where nutritious diet staples are hard to come by, especially in tough times.

With a minimum three-hour commitment, you'll keep busy. Help with admin, approve clients, or do community outreach (posting mailings, making phone calls).

Looking for something physical?

Take food to sites, divide apples, and dole out the goods. You'll be doing a major part to help people get the fruits and veggies they need.

And that's a green movement to be proud of.

To participate in Fresh for All, contact Tunisia Garnett (215-339-0900 ext. 238 or tgarnett@philabundance.org).

Urban charm school head provides a "pocketbook for success" for today's teens in new book,

The DivaGirl's Guide to Style and Self-Respect

From coast to coast, it's no wonder why urban girls are in a state of crisis: Teenage mothers are the latest stars of MTV, and female flash-mob robbers are a hit on YouTube.

But what happens when the camera crews are off chasing the next sensational craze? Many teen girls will be left alone, out of the spotlight, struggling to find their way from adolescence to adulthood.

People become really quite remarkable when they start thinking that they can do things. When they believe in themselves they have the first secret of success. – Norman Vincent Peale

High school dropout rates range from 40% to 50% for urban teen girls
Girl-on-girl violence is on the rise, accounting for 1 in 4 violent episodes

Sexually transmitted diseases have reached epidemic levels among urban teen girls

What happens when these girls realize that their 15 minutes of fame and poor decision-making could lead to a lifetime of consequences?

Help is on the way. We've got "your pocketbook to success" with The DivaGirl's Guide to Style and Self-Respect by Cheryl Ann Wadlington with Sonya Beard, coming in March 2012 from The Elevator Group.

Over many years of operating her popular modeling seminars, self-image workshops and urban charm school, Evoluer House in Philadelphia, Wadlington has talked to-and listened to- thousands of girls. She knows their interests and struggles; she understands where they're coming from and where they're going. She's that big sister who believes in them and says, "You can make it!"

This hands-on guide advises girls on fashion tips and beauty secrets, playing nice with friends and keeping guys in check, and how to handle herself in cyberspace and in the real world-all while keeping her cool points.

It also addresses more serious issues that affect her self-esteem and her ability to succeed. This book isn't full of random "shoulds" to memorize. It explains all the "whys," so today's girl can make wise decisions.

About the Authors: Cheryl Ann Wadlington is one of the nation's premiere fashion and beauty journalists and a leading consultant in the field of personal growth. An accomplished writer, television personality and sought-after motivational speaker, she has reached millions through publications such as Self, Essence, Life & Style, and The Philadelphia Daily News. She founded Evoluer Image Consultants, an award-winning full-service agency in Philadelphia that provides clients with extensive makeovers, personal shopping and wardrobe management. She also operates the nonprofit organization, The Evoluer House, which has graduated more than 700 socio-economically challenged girls from this highly successful personal development program. Cheryl majored in advertising and communications at the Fashion Institute of Technology and Fashion Merchandising at Bauder Fashion College. She also served on the faculty of the Temple University School of Communications and the advisory board of Cheyney University's Fashion Merchandising program.

COMPUTERS AND TECHNOLOGY

Comcast unveils new plan to combat digital divide

Comcast has announced that it will begin offering a new service, Internet Essentials, in time for the 2011-12 school year.

This initiative will directly address the major barriers that many in our communities face for in-home broadband adoption: affordability and lack of digital literacy.

In today's world, it is important for everyone to be digitally literate. Broadband adoption is vital for our communities because it helps improve our children's education, our local economy, and the ability for members of our communities to find jobs and benefit from opportunities available online.

Comcast Internet Essentials will provide eligible families with:

- Affordable home Internet service ($9.95 per month)
- A low-cost computer ($149.99 plus taxes)
- Access to free internet training – online, in print and in classroom (at established community training sites)

Internet Essentials will be available everywhere that Comcast offers its high-speed Internet service. Students in more than 4,000 school districts in 39 states and the District of Columbia will be able to participate.

Comcast will accept new Internet Essentials participants for at least three years, through the end of the 2013-14 school year. Any household that qualifies during this three-year period will remain eligible for Internet Essentials, provided the household still qualifies for the program, until that child graduates from high school.

Group offers low-cost web access to nonprofits

Mobile Citizen, a provider of mobile broadband for education and nonprofits, will offer a Technology Assistance Grant program beginning in January to provide non-profit organizations with affordable access to the Internet.

Available only in Portland, Oregon, Las Vegas, and Philadelphia, the grant includes reduced-price service from Mobile Citizen, with unlimited usage for only $10/month or $120/year per account. It bundles Mobile Citizen's wireless broadband, powered by WiMAX, a fourth generation (4G) technology from Clearwire Corporation with a variety of benefits available only to grantees, including:

- 12 months of service from Mobile Citizen extended to 15 months at no additional charge. With this, nonprofits receive three free months of service per account.
- Dedicated Mobile Citizen Customer Care customized for non-profit organizations.
- A free one-year membership to NTEN, a nonprofit technology network, ongoing information and news as well as access to a support community.
- A choice of additional benefits including an educational webinar series.

WORD-OF-THE-WEEK

fortuitous \for-TOO-uh-tuhs; -TYOO-\
Happening by chance; coming or occurring by accident, or without any known cause; Happening by a fortunate or lucky chance; Fortunate or lucky.

retailers accept coupons that are printed from your computer because of a huge increase in counterfeit coupons. Actual manufacturer coupons which we issue are accepted everywhere that coupons are accepted.

Q: Can these coupons be doubled?

A: Yes. These are manufacturer issued coupons and may be doubled in any store that offers double coupons.

Q: What are the face values and the expiration dates of these coupons?

A: Being manufacturer coupons, the manufacturer determines the face values of the coupons. We currently stock coupons ranging in value from 40 cents to 5.00 dollars. The coupon expiration dates are generally valid for 90 days.

Q: How can I use $1,000.00 worth of coupons in 90 days?

A: With our program, you get to choose the coupons you want, when you want them. This way you never have to worry about the coupons expiring.

Q: How do I choose the coupons I want?

A: Each coupon book contains coupon request slips which you fill out and send in. Those coupons are then mailed to you.
